

FARMERS
MARKET

AT GREAT VALLEY

The Farmers Market at Great Valley

RETURNS

Thursday, May 20, 11 a.m. - 2 p.m.

FRESH:

New Thinking About What We're Eating

To celebrate the opening of the farmers market, join us for a free screening of this new documentary.

Wednesday, May 19

7:00 - 9:00 p.m.

The Conference Center at Penn State Great Valley

This event is free but registration is required.

FRESH celebrates the farmers, thinkers, and business people across America who are reinventing our food system. Forging healthier, sustainable alternatives, FRESH is a look at the range of efforts underway to renovate the way we grow food and feed ourselves. Following the screening, members from the Pennsylvania Association of Sustainable Agriculture will lead a discussion on key points.

Vendors from our farmers market and members of the Pennsylvania Association of Sustainable Agriculture will be available to answer your questions on local agriculture.

OPENING DAY HIGHLIGHTS

Opening day will feature live music by singer, songwriter, and guitarist Chris Adams.

Several new vendors will participate in this season's market, including:

- Jack's Jams and Jellies
- Blueberry Hill Farm
- Schaeffer's Flowers
- Veronica's Doggie Delights
- St. Peter's Bakery
- Pureblend Tea
- Brogue Hydroponics

Sign up to receive the weekly farmers market newsletter.

Penn State Great Valley

lower parking lot

30 E. Swedesford Road, Malvern

The Farmers Market at Great Valley is sponsored by:

LIBERTY
PROPERTY TRUST

Find us on your favorite network:

